

Best Aruba Honeymoon Hotels

There's a reason so many newlywed couples choose to honeymoon in Aruba and it's called sunshine—the island gets just 18 inches of rain each year—but excellent hotel options are part of its allure, too.

By Donna Heiderstadt | September 17, 2019

Sun-filled days and spectacular sunsets are two reasons Aruba makes the short list for many couples' honeymoon destination. The weather is generally reliable (Aruba is below the hurricane belt) and the island's beaches are sublime—with incredibly white sand and clear turquoise water—and there's a thriving culinary and nightlife scene, too.

But what wins over many newlyweds is the variety of well-priced hotel accommodations, from respected international brands to convenient all-inclusive properties to boutique resorts with a decidedly grown-up vibe. We've rounded up the 10 best honeymoon hotels and resorts in Aruba for the perfect romantic escape.

Bucuti & Tara Beach Resort

What two words make most honeymooners say, "Ahhh"? That would be adults-only. And Bucuti & Tara Beach Resort is not only romantically child-free, it's also intimate (just 104 rooms). What's more, Bucuti is located on magnificent Eagle Beach—often voted one of the best in the Caribbean—and its Tara Wing, which is home to honeymoon-worthy rooms and suites, completed a renovation in 2017 and now features contemporary décor in neutral yet seductive palette of ivory, beige and coral.

Equally tantalizing are the perks that include free breakfast, WiFi, parking and self-serve laundry as well as two daily happy hours (plus a Healthy Hour and on site wellness specialist at the Purun Spa). And for a fresh start to married life, couples can enjoy locally sourced natural cuisine in Elements, which features four menus: world cuisine, natural & organic, gluten-free and vegan.