Looking back 35 years in celebration of Bucuti's anniversary

While Black Monday, Oct. 19, 1987, was the day the stock market crashed, for our Bucuti Beach Resort, that day marked our grand opening – 11 days ahead of schedule -- and prosperity continues to follow.

Bucuti & Tara has received enviable recognition for excellence in offering one of the world's most romantic vacations while ensuring it is one of the most sustainable experiences that's as good for you as it is our shared planet. Read about this journey and how our community has been our priority along the way.

Coveted recognition for both Bucuti & Tara and Elements

Condé Nast Traveler Readers' Choice Awards recognized Bucuti & Tara as the only Aruba hotel on their Top Caribbean Resorts list, thanks to all of you! We are grateful for your votes. Elements restaurant also made the Tripadvisor winners' list for the Best Date Night in the World.

Unhappy Hour: protecting your peace & tranquility at the SandBar

Bucuti & Tara guests communicate clearly about why they choose us. The priority is peace and tranquility and the ability to connect with nature and one other in our serene environment. In recent years, our Happy Hour has delivered the opposite and we are making changes to restore the desired experience.
